Interviewing Witnesses: How to Unlock Their Memories

6 C D

Intermediate

Dave Barney

The SRA Competence Statement makes it clear that solicitors must be capable of “obtaining relevant information through effective use of questioning and active listening”. This is sometimes easier said than done when the events in question took place several years before.

This course teaches you how to use techniques based on cognitive interviewing that really work in getting information out of witnesses.

It uses a series of memory retrieval techniques to increase the amount of information that can be obtained from a witness or client.

Cognitive interviewing is successfully used in some of the largest UK law firms and will increase the completeness and accuracy of what your witnesses can remember, helping them to remember clearly things that happened many months, or even many years ago. It will also enable you to:

- Assess litigation risks and make decisions about a case
- Prepare cases and take statements based on the full facts
- Obtain up to 40% more relevant information
- Obtain uncontaminated evidence from witnesses
- Obtain more facts and details from witnesses first time, reducing the need for costly re-interviews

Linda ran her private client practice with a strong personal input into the costing of the legal services provided by her firm. Recognising the value of the will, trust, power of attorney, accurate and timely administration of an estate rather than only the physical creation of the document/estate distribution produced for the client, formed the basis of her highly successful practice. Added to this was an empowerment of her staff to have the knowledge and confidence to apply a fee charging structure based on a range of agreed practice guidelines.
